EDUCATORS' NOTES

Throughout the elementary school years, biography lessons and assignments are a common topic. Books are read aloud by teachers or students are assigned to research historic or prominent individuals.

The following list feature a range of people who have excelled in their fields often overcoming stereotypes of gender or race. Some are well known such as Rosa Parks or Ted Geisel (Dr. Seuss.) Others are not, such as Effa Manley, the first woman inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame because of her role as owner and business manager of the Newark Eagles in the Negro National League. Or, Tomás Rivera, a migrant farmworker who grew up to become a Chancellor at the University of California.
